Moving the U.S. embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem would be a grievous mistake. For Christians concerned with peace and justice, Jerusalem must be a city shared by three faiths and two peoples. As long as Israel occupies East Jerusalem and restricts Palestinian human rights, to designate Jerusalem as Israel♦s capital is to endorse the violation of international law.
We pray for ♦the peace of Jerusalem♦ as Christmas approaches, but peace is not achieved by unilateral claims or annexation. There is a profound moral stewardship of the holy sites in Jerusalem that requires the shared decision-making of Christian and Muslim Palestinians as well as Jewish Israelis. Behind the many General Assembly statements affirming Jerusalem to be a shared city is the conviction that Jesus still calls us to be peacemakers.

 Claiming Jerusalem as the capital for one people not only damages hope for peace between Israeli and Palestinians, but deepens religious tensions among Muslims, Jews, and Christians. Each of our religious traditions has a long memory. Back in 1947, the original UN plan for two states called for Jerusalem to be an international city, so that religious coexistence there could be a model for tolerance around the world. The nations of the world have respected that good vision by keeping their embassies in Tel Aviv until a just peace can be achieved. For the U.S. government to act alone in the interests of one side is to end any claim that we can be an ♦honest broker♦ in a peace process to end the occupation of Palestine. It is for these reasons that we go on record as a church to express our deep disagreement with this action by our government. In this year of painful anniversaries for the Palestinians, it would be another betrayal to abandon the equal claims of both the Palestinians and the Israelis to Jerusalem, a city of historical and spiritual significance shared by Christianity, Islam, and Judaism. <ul style="margin: 0px 0px 1.5em 22px; padding: 0px; line-height: 1.4; text-rendering: optimizeLegibility; color: rgb(51, 51, 51);"> <li style="margin: 0px; padding: 0px 0px 0px 18px; line-height: 1.4; text-rendering: optimizelegibility; background: rgba(0, 0, 0, 0) url(../m/screen/bullet.gif) no-repeat scroll 0px 0.3em; list-style: outside none none; text-align: left;"> UN General Assembly Resolution 181 (II) designates Jerusalem as a whole and its environs as ♦a corpus separatum under [a special] international regime,♦ to be administered by the UN. <li style="margin: 0px; padding: 0px 0px 0px 18px; line-height: 1.4; text-rendering: optimizelegibility; background: rgba(0, 0, 0, 0) url(../m/screen/bullet.gif) no-repeat scroll 0px 0.3em; list-style: outside none none; text-align: left;"> UN General Assembly Resolution 194 affirmed the free access for worship and right of return or compensation for refugees. <li style="margin: 0px; padding: 0px 0px 0px 18px; line-height: 1.4; text-rendering: optimizelegibility; background: rgba(0, 0, 0, 0) url(../m/screen/bullet.gif) no-repeat scroll 0px 0.3em; list-style: outside none none; text-align: left;"> the UN Security Council adopted Resolution 476 stating that ♦measures which have altered the geographic, demographic and historical character and status of the Holy City of Jerusalem are null and void♦ and ♦constitute a flagrant violation of the Fourth Geneva Convention relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War and also constitute a serious obstruction to achieving a comprehensive, just and lasting peace in the Middle East.♦   ?? ?????? ?????? ?????? ?????????? ?????????? ?????????? ??????????  <span dir="RTL" lang="AR-SA" style="font-size:12.0pt;font-family:"Times New Roman";"serif"; mso-ascii-theme-font:major-bidi;mso-fareast-font-family:"Times New Roman";
